

WE MADE AN IMPACT TOGETHER

Cooperman Barnabas Medical Center (CBMC) broke ground last month on a five-story, 137,000 square-foot cancer center on its Livingston Campus. The $225 million, freestanding outpatient facility, scheduled for 2025 completion, will serve as the northern hub for the integrated oncology services offered by RWJBarnabas Health and Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey, the state's only National Cancer Institute-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center.

"The Cancer Center at Cooperman Barnabas Medical Center will be a regional destination for cancer care, building on the Medical Center's longstanding legacy of clinical expertise and compassionate, patient-centered diagnosis and treatment," said Richard L. Davis, the hospital's President and CEO. "We are celebrating the dawn of a new era in world-class cancer care."

Playing a key role in the hospital's continued growth is the generosity of Leon and Toby Cooperman, who in 2021 made a historic $100 million gift to the Medical Center.

"We applaud the Cooperman Family Foundation for their longstanding support," said Bruce Schonbraun, Chairman of the Board of Trustees at CBMC. "Their extraordinary and selfless generosity has enabled this facility to expand its footprint and attract world-class physicians to bring the best healthcare available to northern New Jersey."

The Medical Center's partnership with Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey gives patients access to the most advanced treatment options including immunotherapy, blood and marrow transplantation, CAR T-cell therapy, and clinical trials, many of which are not available elsewhere. Patients no longer need to travel far for the latest treatments.
